TYPING TEACHER

This program is designed especially to help users who haven't used a computer or a typwriter before. The aim is to teach you the keyboard, so you can find any key you need quickly, and type in your programs more easily. When you have loaded it in, the program announces itself and then explains how its works. When you are ready, it will select key after key in random order; the idea is for you to find and press each key as selected, as fast as you can. The program keeps score, and at the end of 5 minutes it tells you how well you did—in both characters/ minute and words/minute. It's quite challenging, and it's fun as well! Runs on an 8K computer, with or without 16K Expansion Module.
